The word "love" can have a variety of related but distinct meanings in different contexts. Many other languages use multiple words to express some of the different concepts that in English are denoted as "love"; one example is the plurality of Greek words for "love" which includes agape and eros. Cultural differences in conceptualizing love thus doubly impede the establishment of a universal ...

The answer is that love is – unconditional selflessness™, BUT that is a truth we couldn™ safely admit until we could explain the HUMAN CONDITION – explain WHY our human behaviour has often been so competitive, selfish and aggressive, so seemingly unloving. It follows then that the real issue behind the question of – what is love™ has been the issue of the human condition.
